Posner is a law and economics guy - pretty far removed from me. Greenspan is a former Fed Chairman who really never did academic economics, and was given far too much credit during his tenure at the Fed, as far as I can tell. Some of those people are Republicans. I certainly am not. Post-1970 macroeconomics is not some tool of the right wing.

I bought this study guide after emailing the publishers of Macroeconomics by Stephen Williamson and being told that this contained solutions to the textbook. Well, I figured before I bought it that it would not (which it didn't), but that it would provide extra questions with answers that would be helpful.
